Highlights

Learn the prosthodontic, surgical and laboratory protocols and procedures required to predictably provide graftless, full-arch immediate-load prosthesis for your patients.

This course is designed for clinicians with intermediate to advanced experience in implant dentistry who desire to provide graftless solutions for full-arch immediate-load prosthesis for edentulous patients and those with terminal dentition. Emphasis will be placed on diagnosis and treatment planning, prosthodontic, surgical and laboratory protocols, and procedures for fabrication and delivery of All-on-4® full-arch immediate-load provisional and final prosthesis.

After this one-day course, the participant will be able to...

- Understand the All-on-4® treatment concept and its advantages for patients, dental clinics and laboratories
- Discuss the steps in the restorative, surgical and laboratory procedures
- Implement its treatment workflow in a referral practice
